RECORDS OF THE VICE-ADMIRALTY COURT AT HALIFAX, NOVA SCOTIA.

THE CONDEMNATION OF PRIZES AND RECAPTURES OF THE REVOLUTION AND THE WAR OF 1812.

The records of the Vice-Admiralty Court at Halifax, Nova Scotia, covering the period of the American Revolution, are now preserved in the Provincial Building at Halifax, in the custody of the Provincial Secretary. The registers for the years 1776-1783 are in three folio volumes and preserve only the essential facts. The original files of documents relating to each case have disappeared. Some years ago a considerable mass of manuscripts was found stored at the Navy Yard in Halifax, and after burning a portion and selling considerable for junk, the remainder was sent to the Admiralty Office in London. Possibly some of these Vice-Admiralty Court papers may have found their way to London in this manner.

The Vice-Admiralty Court records for the period of the War of 1812 are now stored in the County Court House at Halifax. The register of cases is in the Prothonotary's Office and the files of original papers are contained in some dozen or more boxes stored in a damp basement. The papers in each file are numbered to correspond with the number of the case in the register of the court, and in the abstracts here printed these case numbers are included so that it may be possible to secure additional information upon application to the office of the Prothonotary. These files in many instances contain a considerable number of papers in addition to the documents of the Court. The ship's papers, if not already destroyed at the time of capture, will be found, consisting of the commission — in the case of a privateer — the ship's register or license, the crew list, bill of health, various bills of lading, and sometimes owner's instructions with business correspondence.

In the following pages the records covering the period of the Revolution are printed in a condensed form, alphabetically arranged by the name of the vessel captured, and precede the records of the War of 1812. The first case brought before the Court was under date of April 15, 1776. Previous to that time prizes taken along the New England coast had been condemned at a Vice-Admiralty Court sitting in Boston. Two typical cases recorded in the register of the Court are here reprinted verbatim to illustrate the form of entry.

RAMBLER, schr., Benjamin Fuller, master, two six pounders, one three pounder, one two pounder and four swivels, 30 men, owned in Newbury, were on a cruise from there, captured while ashore in St. Margaret's Bay, near Halifax, about July 20th, 1781, by the brigantine Lady Hammond, tender to H. M. S. Charlestown. While they were trying to get the schooner off, the people of her in the bushes ashore fired on the captors and killed one and wounded another. The captors then went ashore and scattered them, capturing one named Robert Kelley, who made deposition and stated they had taken six shallops, two belonging to the Frenchmen to the Eastward, and sent them to Newbury.

RANGER, schr. one McGra or McCra, master. "John McGra being duly sworn deposeth that on the 14th day of March, inst about sun sett, he arrived in the Harbour of Halifax at Fairbank's wharf, that he was Hailed by the Albany to come alongside, but that he did not understand them, then went into the said wharf, that an officer came from the Albany and threatened the Deponant, and told him he had done for himself because he did not obey the orders in coming under the man of war's stern, that the deponant told the officer he did not understand them, the Deponant thought they asked where they came from, and that was the reason he answered from Falmouth & did not go under the stern of the ship, that the officer staid on board the schooner Ranger about 3 minutes, & returned to the Albany, that he left no person on Board the schooner."

In answer to a question the Captain stated he had loaded at Boston, proceeded to Piscataqua, and then came to Halifax. The Ranger was seized by a Custom House officer, and there was some dispute as to whether or no the Albany had made the seizure. The schooner was condemned.

RANGER, schr., probably a recapture, by the Sloop Gage, William Callaghan, master, libel dated Nov. 7th, 1778, but record contains no further information.
